NEW UNIT SYSTEM ALBUM PAGES

FOR ALL

20th Century Regular Issues

UNIT No. 6

A new Unit is now ready for all regular issues of 20th Century Postage Stamps which are issued in perforated sheets. This Unit does not include Commemorative issues, neither does it include spaces for imperforate stamps or Coils—These latter will be covered in another set of pages.

UNIT No. 6—40c

(Postage Extra — Shipping Weight 1 Lb.)

This new UNIT NUMBER SIX consists of 16 pages including a title page and an extra blank page. The Unit as we have assembled it makes an extraordinarily attractive setting for these stamps for it shows all of the regularly issued perforated stamps exclusive of Commemoratives (which are shown in Unit No. 1) and the same stamps in imperforate condition or from coils. Thus with these two items omitted, the pages give you a complete and attractive showing of the various stamps without at the same time showing what appears to the non-collector to be an endless repetition of the same stamps. It really makes a very attractive showing and we feel certain you will approve of these new pages.

If you have not yet adopted the LINPRINT Unit Pages, herewith is a complete listing of the Units available. A complete descriptive circular, explaining all about the Unit System Pages, Binders and other Accessories free on request.

One of the features of the LINPRINT Unit System Album Pages is that each year we issue and supply new pages to take care of all stamps issued in the previous twelve months, so that your album can always be kept up to date.

Queensland Plate Breaks

LIKE the American 7-cent Washington bicentennial stamp which appeared in greater quantity with a broken letter in the value inscription than in perfect form, the 2d blue queen's head of the 1897 issue of Queensland is often found marred by plate breaks. Because it is one of the world's common stamps it can be purchased still at a low price and from a few hundred copies it should be possible for the collector to develop an intensely interesting page for the back of his album, regardless of what stamps he may collect.

A great deal of credit for recording these plate flaws is due to John Sullivan who reported his findings in the Australian Stamp Monthly a year or so ago. The illustration on this page will showing a crack on the queen's head was the first to be noticed. It was only on the fortunate discovery of a second specimen of this flaw, that the writer decided to make a more careful examination of the remainder of the available pile of 2d. blues.

"There are ten major flaws, the two marked A always occurring together in the four stamps found by the writer. The following list details the nineteen combinations in which the flaws have been found.

"Most of the plate variations will be obvious on examining the sketch; however, a few words about them will possibly be of benefit.

Few Are Perfect

"Flaw B is a small line joining the chignon to the inner line; D shows as a white spot on the neck, and is formed by a break in the eighth line from the bottom. The break in the neck, C, shows in two forms, one probably being an earlier stage of the other.

"The small extra line, G, sometimes shows as a line of dots. About ninety stamps in all were examined; eighty were found with flaws and only about five were found free from error. The comparative rarity of the various combinations may be estimated from the numbers found:—

Manages Bureau

Miss P. Bruyere, manager of the Stamp Dealers' Credit Bureau, in assuming a position formerly held by her in Washington, D. C., expresses the greatest amazement at the growth of the stamp business during the last five years, and attributes this startling development to the publicity which has been given the hobby of stamp collecting in the newspapers of the United States. She believes it to be the greatest single contributing factor, mentioning as incidental ones the Ivory Soap campaign on the radio conducted by H.

E. Harris & Co. of Boston, the great impetus given the hobby by the issuance of the Farley stamps in 1935, and the great interest in the royal family affairs of Great Britain which have made a necessary change in the stamps of King Edward VIII to George VI. Miss Bruyere's service is a clearing house for fraud and collection matters involving stamp accounts for the dealer or collector and is international in its scope. Collected together in this one organization is more information of this type than exists anywhere else in the world. Activities of the Stamp Dealers' Credit Bureau are available to any dealer.

serve as a guide to the ten positions Mr. Sullivan studied. We quote a part of his findings:

Flaws In Groups

"Most of the flaws occur in groups of three, some occur singly with signs of other flaws, usually I or F developing. For instance, the break in the inner line, I, shows as a thin line in a large number of the stamps examined.

Your Washington Correspondent

BY CHARLES A. KENNY
The Washington Times Stamp Editor

As was the case last week, little news was forthcoming from the Post Office Department here. This means that the designs for the 5-cent Army and Navy commemoratives have not been approved by the "powers who be." As I said last week, each seven-day period of "no news" means that the stamps will not be ready for first day sale until another added week. The 5-centers positively will not be issued until the fifteenth of May or thereafter.

It appears to yours truly that when the release comes through we will be mildly surprised in learning that two separate dates will be assigned—one for the Army for sale at West Point; and the other for the Navy at Annapolis. Washington will not be included in the first day of sale simultaneously with the Army or Navy adhesive. The stamps will be placed for first day sale here the following day.

Should separate dates be chosen for the release of these stamps, it is the opinion of your correspondent that collectors will make an attractive pilgrimage to the two academies.

Washington Post Office officials here are of the opinion that Trans-Pacific covers westbound from San Francisco to Hong Kong and Macao, will not be received in the United States until the last of May and early June. It takes between 20 and 23 days to transport the covers by ship from these points to the United States. The eastbound covers from Hong Kong and Macao, to be flown one week later, should arrive at addressed destinations before the second week of May.

A water-color study by J. D. Knapp showing five birds of the scaup species represented in flight, is the approved design for the 1937 duck hunter's license stamp. The stamp is the usual $1. denomination with the revenue derived to the cause of wild-life conservation.

A release from the Philippine resident commissioner here, too late to be included in last week's correspondence, announces that the "commonwealth" overprinted stamps would be placed on sale Monday (April 12). They are 4, 8, 12, 20 and 26 centavos and 2, 4 and 5 pesos.

Robert A. Yeager, Sunbury, Pa., in a letter to the editor and turned over to your Washington correspondent in reference to the article "Forecast of Coming Stamps," April 3 issue, asks why no comment was made on the change of design in the 3-cent denomination from the portrait of Lincoln to that of Washington. Unfortunately it was an inexcusable oversight on the part of the writer.

Mr. Yeager also asks why no mention was made of the special delivery, special handling or printed envelope stock and postal cards included in the article. In reference to special delivery and special handling stamps these are subjunctive to a regular issue of stamps. The current regulars are known as the series of 1922-23. The last 10-cent special delivery was issued in 1927, while the 15-cent denomination (latest) made its appearance in 1931. 1925 was the year of the 20-cent.

A new series of special handling stamps was issued in 1928. Should postal rates be changed, a new series of each of the special handling and special delivery stamps will probably be in the

Columbus Philatelic Club Annual

In years past the annual exhibition, banquet and bourse of the Columbus Philatelic Club has been an affair that has attracted many stamp collectors to this city. The meeting has usually been held in January and because of the uncertainty of the weather at that time, there frequently have been times when prospective visitors were kept away at the last moment.

For some time past there has been a movement in the club to change the date of the annual meeting to spring. This has now been done and the date is set for Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16. This year the club is holding its meetings at the Virginia Hotel, a more modern hotel with more attractive rooms and a location within a block of the state capitol and the center of the city.

The Virginia has ample accommodations for the affair and we anticipate a better setup and a more attractive show in the new quarters.

As has been the custom, the bourse will open Saturday at 10 a. m., at which time the exhibition will also be opened. Both the bourse and exhibition will be in the same large room as experience has demonstrated that such an arrangement is the most desirable both to dealers on the bourse and to attract attention to the exhibition.

There are to be allotted but a limited number of bourse tables. Those wishing tables may obtain them by applying to Bernard Feitlinger, 1500 Menlo Place, Columbus, Ohio. The bourse tables are sold for $5 and with each table is given two tickets for the annual banquet so that the net cost is but $2 for the tables. Reservations should be made immediately as the number is limited.

For visitors, the banquet ticket will be $1.50. Admission to the exhibition and bourse is free.

We can assure everyone that the banquet and subsequent entertainment will be well worth the price charged as the committee on entertainment is planning something that will be appreciated by every attendant.

The exhibition this year is in the hands of E. E. Parker and George C. Sturgeon and we are assured that there will be some worth while exhibits from out of the city.

A feature of the annual dinner is to be a drawing for a prize that will well repay some lucky collector. The club is soliciting donations of silver dimes with which to help defray the expense of the entertainment. Numbered receipts for such contributions are being issued by the members who are soliciting the contributions and there is to be a drawing at the dinner, the number drawn is to be given a whole trunk full of stamps and such things. The trunk is an old trunk such as any philatelist would look for in a dusty attic. It is being filled with stamps, albums, hinges and all kinds of philatelic accessories that will interest any stamp collector. I fully believe the trunk will be worth from $25 to $50 to any collector who might be lucky enough to draw it. Contributions are being accepted by all club members who will issue receipts for same.

Visiting collectors who wish reservations at the Virginia Hotel should make their wants known either direct to the hotel or address George W. Linn, 531 North Park Street, Columbus, Ohio, who is chairman of that committee. Rates are quite reasonable, a single room with bath is $2 to $2.50; double room with bath, $3 to $4; single room, running water, $1.50, and suites $5 to $7.

Remember the dates—Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16, Hotel Virginia, at the corner of Third and Gay streets. Come, bring your friends and spend a couple days with live stamp collectors.

Another feature of this meet is to be a gathering of precancel collectors. It is hoped to make this one of the largest gatherings of precancel collectors that has ever been held in Ohio. Local collectors are planning some extra things of interest for the boys.

—George W. Linn.

Thomas White Of Austria

Back in 1933, a Mr. Thomas White who was at that time located in Georgia, used advertising space both in this publication and in Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News. Mr. White later operated a plan under the name "PHILATELOGUE" and did business from Austria.

Due to misfortune, Mr. White was unable to meet his obligations at that time and numerous complaints came to our office as well as to Mekeel's for orders given Mr. White and monies paid him for which the remitters received no returns.

When the advertising was originally printed, Mr. White gave gilt edge references which were verified on investigation. It was merely a case of misfortune over which Mr. White had no control that caused the difficulties which made him fail to meet his obligations.

On April 12 comes a letter from London, England. Mr. White is now in London, acknowledges all his obligations, has already settled many of the old claims and assures us that he is now in position to clear up his old obligations 100 per cent. Mr. White has had us print an advertisement in this issue announcing his intention to make these settlements and we feel that this statement is due Mr. White.

If you are one of the parties who placed an order and did not receive goods in return, you should look up the announcement in this issue and address a letter to him, with details of your order.

Mr. White's obligation to our publication for advertising was almost $100, his letter to us contained a remittance for a large part of this sum and an assurance that the balance would be paid. This is so unusual that we can not help but comment on it and wish that there were fewer people who went into the stamp business and piled up a lot of obligations which they later attempted to avoid in every way possible. This action on the part of Mr. White clearly marks him as a gentleman who has respect for his obligations.

Air Stamp Variety

Perhaps you have an interesting variety in your collection that has been overlooked. The flaw occurs on some copies of the Indian airmail designated as A1 in the Standard Catalogue. In the background, between two hills, are two trees. In the variety the entire top of the tree on the left is missing, just as though the airplane had swooped down and sheared the foliage away. The damage to the plate was corrected early and later printings were normal.

Ban On Danish Stamps

J. Allen Murphy, Jr., of Princeton, Ill., advances the question as to whether Germany will refuse to handle Danish mail franked with the new special stamps picturing a scene at Dueppel where Prussians and Danes fought in 1864. Whether the Nazis will go so far remains to be seen but certain it is that German dealers and collectors have been admonished not to invest in the stamps as "the net proceeds from this issue are intended for purposes inimical to Germany."

Just stop to think how few sets there were issued of these and the world wide interest. Won't you agree they still offer marvelous speculative possibilities!!! None of these touch half a million yet it is often we hear of other stamps being issued in many millions.

Because these prices are so drastic—we will have to ask our friends, remitting in stamps, to add 10% extra please.

To buy jubilees, for after the Coronation, there will be hundreds of new collectors who will want the Jubilees to go with their Coronation sets, and the prices will advance considerably we believe. We would like to hold them ourselves but our business is selling, not holding.

We also want to buy Jubilees, write us and tell what you have to offer.

POSTAGE STAMP Next Saturday will HAS BIRTHDAY mark the ninety-seventh anniversary of the appearance of the first postage stamps, the English 1d black and the 2d blue, which were placed on sale at about the same time—May 1, 1840. Although the first day sale was officially announced for May 6 of that year, Rowland Hill states in his "History of Penny Postage" that the stamps were offered five days in advance of that date.

That first penny black was the pioneer in several customs that are commonplace today. For instance, there was a first day sale of no small importance. Eager buyers carried away from the London stamp office some $12,500 worth of the adhesives and thereby established the customary rush that has attended every first day sale during ninety-seven years of philatelic history.

Perhaps we have wondered at times why we place stamps in the upper right hand corner of an envelope. That was done the first day of stamp history for upon every sheet of penny blacks was a marginal imprint instructing the buyers to so place the stamps.

We know not how much some of our present day artists are paid to produce some of the poor designs that appear on stamps but it is certain they are paid much better than Henry Corbould who was responsible for the beautiful queen's heads on early English postage. Corbould received $60 for his labor.

Prepaid postage through the medium of adhesive labels was, and is, a great idea. All hail to those enterprising Englishmen who had a hand in the production of the first issue.

LET'S SHOW It's exhibition time. OUR STAMPS The editor literally has been swamped with details of a hundred stamp shows from San Diego to Boston and it appears that more clubs than ever before are staging public displays of the stamps of the world. We cannot commend too highly this growing practice of advertising the hobby for by actual test it has been determined that thousands of people who never before interested themselves in postal adhesives have been steered into collecting paths simply by gazing at a display of postage stamps. There is a lot of work connected with the staging of an exhibition but the results are worth the effort.

All of this has been by way of leading up to, as easily as possible, an announcement of policy we regret to make. So many requests for publicity for local shows have been made during the last week that if we were to comply there would be precious little space left in our magazine for other stamp news and features. We are certain that the readers in general do not want us to reduce the quantity of news matter even though they might be interested to some extent in shows from one end of the country to another. So we are going to attempt to limit space to the major exhibitions and tell the news of those in as little space as possible. We are sure everyone will understand the situation and not feel offended. Keep up the good work through local displays and push for publicity where it will do you the most good—in your home town newspaper.

Expense is NOT being spared to obtain first day cancellations—duplicate orders have been given to a large number of colonial agents; nevertheless it is obviously impossible to guarantee all first day cancellations. London dealers are charging more than double these prices. Souvenir envelopes are to be used.

Delivery will be made just as promptly as available, as time is too short to address covers direct to clients. After issue the prices are expected to soar—get them now.

INTEREST REVIVES IN JUBILEES

Reports from England indicate that the popular interest in the impending stamps for the Coronation of King George VI has boomeranged to the benefit of Jubilee sets issued in tribute to the reign of King George V with healthy sales of the late issue being reported from all sides. The only Jubilee set to have taken a decided backset on the English market is the one from New Zealand while a strong trend holds with many of the others.

The Coronation stamps doubtless will have a greater sale, in point of number of orders for the complete series, than enjoyed by the Jubilees for there is quite a difference in price and, too, political events in England during recent months have built up world interest in the royal family.

The question of first day covers is worrying not a few collectors. Some have invested and are uneasy about their judgment; others neglected to place orders and are beginning to think they missed a bet. Even English dealers are a bit cautious in venturing an opinion upon the probable demand for these items in the future so it is impossible to hazard a guess on the matter. Only time will tell if foreign first day covers will gain an important place in the hearts of American collectors.

High Price For Junk

Numerous complaints have reached the publisher of this magazine that purchases from the Affiliated Underwriters Loan & Finance Company at Rapid City, S. D., have been unsatisfactory. The company recently placed an advertisement in this magazine after correspondence between the publisher and the firm convinced Mr. Linn that the finance company had something unusual to offer.

Two samples of the material sold to collectors at $2 per lot have been examined by Mr. Linn. Both lots were composed of undesirable items, clipped post card stamps, current and torn U. S. with a very few foreign of the cheap approval type. A collector would not purchase such material over the counter.

The publisher sincerely regrets that the advertisement crept into the columns of this magazine and has advised those readers whose purchases have been unsatisfactory to notify the post office inspector at Rapid City, S. D., of the transactions.

The inscription on the Barbados Neptune stamps, type A15, reads "Et Penitus Toto Regnantes Orbe Britannos" and means "Britons are found in all parts of the world."

'A Vaster Empire'

The line "We hold a vaster empire than has been" is known to every stamp collector because of its association with the Christmas stamp of Canada but probably few know the entire stanza from which it is taken.

It is from one of Lewis Morris' patriotic poems and reads thus:
 We love not war but only peace,
 Yet never shall our England's Power decrease,
 Whoever guides our helm of state.
 Let all men know it, England shall be great,
 We hold a vaster empire than has been.

U-10

Unlike the two varieties of U-12 there is no difference in spacing in the two types of U-10. I do not claim the distinction of discovering these types myself, in fact had not my attention been called to it I would still be none the wiser. None other than the veteran, Walter Gates, mentioned it to me about four or five years ago at one of the PSS conventions. We were discussing the difference between U-10 and U-11. So here is the whole thing in a nutshell. The original U-10 is of a type like Anderson, Ind., Rochester, N. Y., Brooklyn, N. Y., and the later or other type is like Youngstown, Ohio, Bridgeport, Conn., and Worcester, Mass.

Get a few specimens of the first mentioned and a few of the latter and lay them before you. The first mentioned places are of a type that is thinner and sharper while the latter is more bold and the serifs are not so sharp. After all this is said it really amounts to nothing, with the exception that it might furnish a little fat for the hot stove leaguers to chew on. That the two types are not mentioned in the catalog is correct because it would mean nothing and only be confusing. A word here to beginners about the U-10 and U-11, the difference here is in the town name. In the U-11 the letters in the town name are spaced. The style of type and everything else is alike but for this exception.

THE RULING

The one Editor Linn commented on a few weeks ago. Something about those dealing in or collecting or interested in precancels not allowed to obtain a permit and if they now have one stand the chance of losing it. What I think about this is not fit to print in a refined paper of this sort, anyway what I think doesn't count so I will say nothing. I do want to leave this one thought, though—all of the precancels, either sheet or coil stamps, that are obtained by dealers and collectors for collections can show nothing but an almost complete profit for the government. They never will have to render any service on any of these stamps and it is hard to see where any greater profit could be derived. Just what the ones that conjured this edict hope to gain is way beyond me, too, so I leave that for my dear readers to ponder upon.

THIS AND THAT

The 8c Memphis city type in U-12 is still coming through the mails, the reason no doubt there is no more B79s. We are informed that no less than two of the three cities where the 20-cent UP varieties occurred held up the sale of the stamps till an official OK had been received from Washington.

Rapkin To Visit U. S.

Mr. G. Cameron Rapkin of the philatelic accessory firm of G. F. Rapkin, London, is to make his annual tour of the United States and Canada during May and June. He will arrive at the Hotel Windsor, Montreal, May 3. Elsewhere in this issue is an advertisement listing cities which he will visit for conferences with stamp dealers. Details and dates of the stops may be obtained by addressing him at the Hotel Windsor.

Mr. Rapkin will be carrying a representative line of Rapkin specialties, including the new Coronation stamp album. A letter from Mr. Rapkin states that his firm is of the belief the number of stamp collectors in the United States has nearly doubled during the last year.

"Even old-timers in the trade have been overwhelmed by the enormous demand for stamps of all kinds," he writes. "Those collectors who were attracted for the first time by the Jubilee stamps, are having their interest redoubled by the Coronation issues of the British empire. A large measure of this expansion in the ranks of collectors is to be attributed to the excellent assistance given to collectors by the illuminating articles in and ever-growing popularity of Linn's Weekly Stamp News."

The Rapkin firm has handled so many orders in recent months that it has been compelled to reorganize its factory and to take additional accommodations that will double production capacity.

Coronation Stamps. From a newspaper clipping sent us by A. J. Bower, we learn that there will be three denominations of this set—1d. red, 2½d. blue and 6d. vermillion. They will be the same size as the Jubilees and will carry the portraits of the King and Queen, surrounded by a frame in which will appear a distinctive New Zealand design. They will be placed on sale about the date of the Coronation and remain on sale until December 31st, temporarily replacing the pictorial stamps of the same denominations. For the Cook Islands and Niue these stamps will be especially overprinted. They will not be overprinted however for Samoa. Whitfield, King and Co. advise that quantities ordered of the Coronation stamps are 1d.—60,000,000; 2½d.—2,000,000; 6d.—3,000,000.

PHILIPPINES—Quantities printed of the commemoratives noted by us January 23rd. were: 2c.—5,000,000; 6c.—1,000,000; 12c.—500,000.

Sandy Point, Newfoundland

Naval Cancells and Cachets

By MARSHALL R. HALL
ANCS 10

1767 Bedford Road, Columbus, Ohio

Hugh W. Flanagan, 365 Kingston road, Toronto 8, Ont., Canada, will sponsor a fine cachet for the Coronation Canadian stamp, and requests that covers come to him early, in order that the printing, etc., may be taken care of in good time. The stamp will be 3-cent denomination, double size, and Hugh will obtain it and apply it first day.

A cachet to commemorate the first Memorial day of the USS Permit will be sponsored by Harry F. Wentz, 600 Mt. Vernon road, Newark, O., to whom covers and forwarding postage should go early.

Another fine cachet will be sponsored by Robert W. Murch, 520 Warren avenue, St. Louis, Mo., and as this is rather elaborate, he asks that covers and forwarding postage come along early.

The Raleigh, Hatfield and Kane are still watching out for our interests in Spanish waters. If you have already obtained covers from these ships, with their cancells which some day will be historic, suggest you send two or three to the mail clerk of each vessel, addressing them care postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Fred Barnes, Belmont Manor Golf Club, Bermuda, writes that all collectors who wish cancells from naval vessels calling at Bermuda, send him their covers ready to go. For cancells on U. S. vessels, prepare your covers as usual. For cancells on foreign vessels, remember the postage is 5 cents from Bermuda, and you may send Mr. Barnes U. S. commemoratives, mint, to this amount and he will exchange them for Bermudans, and send your covers out. A nice offer on his part.

Don't forget that J. L. Couse, USS Trenton, San Diego, Calif., is still a deluxe cover handler par excellence. Send him a couple and then wait for results. (Abe) Covers will be slow coming back for a while because the fleet is now on maneuvers. But be patient. They'll all eventually come back to you.

An Excellent Book

Congratulations to Max G. Johl, a bow to the memory of Beverly S. King. The revised edition of their memorable work, "The United States Postage Stamps of the Twentieth Century" is off the press and it will be a long time before another volume of its quality will be made available to the collectors of United States issues for the years 1901 to 1922.

Mr. Johl has revised and enlarged the work himself, death having taken his co-worker on the original book. Some 300 new illustrations have been added, more than 100 additional pages have been crammed with detailed information about the stamps issued during those two decades. This new book will particularly appeal to the specialist who finds enjoyment in thorough study of the plates. Illustrations of dozens of plate varieties of the Washington-Franklin series of 1908-21 will make the task of looking for these items much easier.

There can be but one major criticism of the Johl volume and that applies to numerous other fine books that have been written for the stamp collector. The book is priced at $4. The great need in this country today is low priced authoritative volumes on the hobby. A comparative few collectors will be able to afford Mr. Johl's work and it is a pity that it will not be more widely read for that reason.

The book may be obtained from the publisher, H. L. Linquist, 2 West 46th street, New York, or from Linn's Weekly Stamp News.

Shades Explained

One characteristic of the Melbourne climate being rapid changes in temperatures, it is not surprising that at times Australian Commonwealth stamps show color variations due to the uneven running of the ink on the presses at the stamp printing office. Such specimens are not regarded as true shades.

Precancel Jamboree

Precancelists are promised a grand time at Cincinnati May 1 and 2 when the Philatelic Society of Cincinnati stages its precancel jamboree at Hotel Sinton. No fixed program, no speeches, nothing but precancels and good fellowship will be the rule. The bourse will be free to collectors and dealers alike.

New Price List

A comprehensive price list of mint and used, singles and blocks of United States and British North American stamps has just been issued by Buckley Stamp Company, 207-208 Ludlow building, Dayton, Ohio. The booklet also lists a nice line of albums and philatelic supplies and will be sent to collectors upon request.

Tipex Cost $68,255

According to a financial statement of Association for Stamp Exhibition, Inc., the cost of staging TIPEX was $68,255.39. The association reports a balance of $7,531.07 at the close of the year.

Broadway Chatter

By Bi Stander

We have just heard that on the day of the Coronation of George VI a steamer will stop at the British colony of Ascension for two hours with first day covers for cancellation. These covers should be very good, we believe.

Advertisements are appearing in New York newspapers for the purchase of used copies of the 4-cent Army and Navy stamps.

In our column last week we referred to Wanamaker's of New York co-operating with Amundsen some years ago when he was to fly over the North Pole. This came up in writing of the Amelia Earhart round-the-world covers. We neglected to state that Earhart covers were handled by Gimbel Brothers. Of course, we want to make it clear that Gimbel's stamp department accepted these covers at face value and is acting as exclusive agents for the flight. It will be remembered that it acted in the same capacity for the Byrd expedition. We are informed that the covers carried by Miss Earhart are being held in good shape in Honolulu and that she is attempting to persuade the post office department to apply a cachet denoting the date of the mishap. If the plane can be repaired and the flight resumed, the covers will be picked up and carried to their destination.

Several people who operate bookshops and sell stamps as a sideline advise us that they have been able to sell all kinds of junky stamps, particularly older U. S., in deplorable condition, because of the newspaper publicity given to the recent find of a U. S. rarity in an old bookshop.

Cartoonist Clifford McBride, creator of "Napoleon and Uncle Elby," a syndicated strip running in the New York Sun, recently had Uncle Elby showing Napoleon, his dog, how to open a street letter box to deposit mail. The same day Uncle Elby placed several letters in Napoleon's mouth and told him to run to the corner and put them in the collection box. Napoleon dashed up to the street but instead of shoving the mail in the letter box deposited them in the street trash can.

More Coronation Stamps?

The British empire Coronation issues may yet gray the locks of stamp dealers who are attempting to take care of thousands of advance orders for what appears likely to be one of the most popular series of adhesives in years. Some of the far flung sections of the empire seem unable to make up their local minds as to just how far they shall go in paying tribute to George VI.

While it was thought to be settled that Newfoundland would be content with three stamps this magazine has received advertising from reliable dealers who have information that the set will consist of fourteen values. Just what is going to happen in Australia is a matter of some conjecture on this side of the Pacific. Stamps are scheduled to be released Coronation Week with arguments on both sides of the fence as to whether the issue will be the new regular postage or commemoratives of short life.
